

108 Central Park Square #208 Los Alamos, New Mexico, 87544

Dear Educators,

The Bradbury Science Museum Association is pleased to announce that Northern New Mexico Schools may now apply for funding to pay for field trips to the Los Alamos National Laboratory's Bradbury Science Museum in Los Alamos, New Mexico.

Two different grants for funding field trips are now available. One grant is provided through funding by Los Alamos National Bank and the Bradbury Science Museum Association offers a similar grant. Please visit the Bradbury Science Museum Association website for additional details and applications. See <http://www.bradburyassociation.org>
